

REBECCA OCAMPO

Rebecca Ocampo, soprano, has performed extensively in opera, oratorio, and musical theater. As an associate professor and program coordinator for the Music Program/Catonsville campus at the Community College of Baltimore County (CCBC), she revels in the spirit of community college teaching. Dr. Ocampo has been a Metropolitan Opera National Council Regional Finalist and has performed with many companies including: The Washington Opera, The Baltimore Opera Company, Skylight Opera Theater, Florentine Opera Company, Lyric Opera Cleveland, Brevard Music Center and Maryland Opera Studio, Washington Concert Opera, and the INSeries. Dr. Ocampo also serves as the CCBC Arts Pathway Coordinator, serving students in all the visual and performing arts for CCBC's Pathways program, a student success initiative.

Her education includes a Bachelor of Arts from the University of Maryland, Baltimore County; and Masters of Music and Doctor of Musical Arts from the University of Maryland, College Park as well as being a Certified Level III Somatic Voice teacher in Somatic Voicework™ (SVW) The LoVetri Method, which is a body-based system of training for Contemporary Commercial Music (CCM). Previous teaching experience includes her private studio; St. Mary's College of Maryland; University of Maryland, College Park; and George Washington University.